

Carolyn Willitts

Carolyn Willitts, founder of CW Studio, is a landscape architect and garden designer who takes joy in creative collaboration and has a passion for designing bespoke spaces that connect people to places.

CW Studio have recently designed the public realm and private courtyard associated with Ellesmere Street in Manchester. Construction has commenced on this 1.25 acre residential development.

A stepped granite terrace with bespoke metallic planters and stone seating steps provides an attractive new public open space and a welcoming entrance to the development, while attractive planting will provide year round interest.

The private contemporary courtyard garden will provide a relaxing space for residents. Raised planters allow a variety of plants and multiGstem trees to be grown on the roof, while oversized pebbles create sculptural seating on the lawn. Planting includes clipped yew hedging, ornamental grasses, perennials, ferns and spring bulbs.

Carolyn says of the scheme "This is such a wonderful project to work on. We are excited about creating bold public realm and a special outdoor space for residents to enjoy."

Carolyn writes for various journals and is a visiting tutor for the London College of Garden Design diploma course and for Manchester Metropolitan University's landscape architecture course.

Carolyn is a featured speaker at this year's LANDSCAPE show in September in Battersea Park.

To register for free tickets to come along and listen to her please visit www.landscapeshow.co.uk

